Article 2 · Premises

A two-room apartment with a living area of 46 m², on the third floor, comprising a living room, bedroom, fitted kitchen, shower room and hallways, with a cellar in the basement. The furniture inventory is appended to this contract.

Article 3 · Use of the premises

The tenant shall occupy the premises with due care as their principal residence within the meaning of article 2 of the law of 6 July 1989. No commercial activity may be carried on without the landlord’s express consent.

The monthly rent is set at 1,380 euros in principal, plus a service-charge provision of 95 euros reconciled annually. It is payable in advance on the first working day of each month.

Article 6 · Security deposit

The tenant pays on signature a security deposit of 1,380 euros, corresponding to one month of rent in principal. It bears no interest and may not be treated as payment of rent. It is returned within a maximum of one month from the handover of the keys when the exit inventory matches the entry inventory, or two months otherwise, less any sums remaining due to the landlord.

Article 7 • Inventory

A joint inventory of fixtures is drawn up when the keys are handed over and when they are returned, in the forms provided by the law of 6 July 1989.

The tenant pays the rent on the agreed terms, enjoys the premises peacefully, answers for deterioration occurring during the lease and takes out insurance covering rental risks, providing proof annually.

Article 9 • Subletting

Any subletting, in whole or in part, requires the prior written consent of the landlord, including for short stays. The rent per square metre of the sublet dwelling may not exceed that paid by the principal tenant. The tenant provides the subtenant with the landlord's written authorisation and a copy of this lease.

Where there are several tenants, they are jointly and severally liable for the performance of the obligations of this lease.

Article 13 • Address for service

For the performance of these presents, the parties elect domicile, the landlord at its registered office and the tenant at the rented premises.

Article 14 • Termination clause

In the event of a breach of the obligations of article 9, the landlord may invoke the termination clause provided in article 14, after formal notice has remained without effect for one month. The lease is then terminated by operation of law two months after an order to comply has remained without effect.
